DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicant's amendment received on 8/26/03.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 20,2,3 and 19 are objected to for incongruous titling. The title of the claims is for a workpiece transfer device, but the body of the claims recites much more than the workpiece transfer device. The claim titles are directed to a transfer device, but in addition to the transfer device, claims 20 also recites a workpiece machining device and a workpiece storage device. These additional recited elements are considered to be part of the claimed invention as per In re Larsen (see MPEP 2173.05(f)), and thus the title of the claim is wrong. A better title might be "a workpiece machining, transfer and storage device". The generic "a machine" would also be acceptable. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 2, 3, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Akimoto et al.

Art Unit: 3724

Akimoto discloses the (Fig. 1-9) the invention including a movement means 62, workpiece-machining device 10, a workpiece-storage device 1, a traveling body 32, a rectangular coordinate movement means 31, a gripping means 30, a product-housing section 3, a material housing section 2, additional housing that is capable of storing skeletons as seen in figures 1 and 8, a first direction Y and a second direction X.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2-3, 19 and 20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Asai et al., Han et al. and Schinzel are cited to show related device.
